

Amateur Baseball Schedule Gets Into Full Swing Again In Today's Games

NOTABLE INTERVIEWS ON THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

FULL SCHEDULE EXPECTED TODAY

Amateur Ball Tossers Think That All Games Will Be Played Hereafter—Cornell and the Pumping Station Team to Meet This Afternoon.

Games Today In Amateur League.

Capital City League—Cornell vs. Pumper.
Columbia League—Braddock vs. Southern Railway.
Departmental League—Agriculture vs. Commerce and Labor.
East Washington League—Metropolitan vs. Ninth.
Independence League—Peeco vs. Southland.
Marquette League—St. Stephens vs. Printers.
Northern Association—Waverley vs. Herald.
R. Y. M. C. A. League—Car Department vs. Adams.
Sunday School League—Nativity vs. Lincoln.
Government League—G. P. O. vs. Agriculture.

The amateur ball tossers expect to get down to business today after yesterday's start and managers say their teams will again be ready to hold forth on the various diamonds. The long period of rest occasioned by the rain, and the return of the Nationals from the West, has called off many of the contests which will be sandwiched in as postponed games later in the season. Yesterday there were two postponed games. The Marquette League teams failed to have a full quota of players and the Government League was forced to call a forfeit on account of the fact that War did not have a team to meet Interior. Promise is given today that the league will stage all their scheduled contests this afternoon.

One of the leagues, the Columbia, tried to play off a postponed game yesterday between Southern and American Security, but was unable to get the teams out. The game was called off in the early morning, but was called off at noon. Some of the teams did not have native of the games and were at loss to know what to do.

Cornell Company and Sewerage Pumping are to battle it out today at the Capital City League grounds and while neither team has had much practice, a good game is looked for. These teams are the strength of the circuit and have many backers. The league started up again yesterday with Brentwood and Navy Yard and drew a fair crowd. It is expected that the troubles are all over and the circuit will again continue in operation.

Some of the amateur teams seem to be pulling away from the idea of a parade and celebration on amateur day and it is generally regretted by those who have the interest at heart. Instead of getting behind the movement, and giving the amateur commission all kinds of support, a few of the peevish ones seem to be trying to get back at the commission by trying to spread dissension in the ranks.

Marquette League.
Park defeated Andrews yesterday in a one-sided game, the score going at 12 to 8. Many errors and hits marked the contest. Park was able to hit Walters for seventeen safeties, but fell down on 6 chances.

Andrews players made seven errors all told which had much to do with the scoring. Miller, of the winners, was the leader at the bat with four hits, one of which was a homer.

Independence League.
Loffler, with Knott in the box, handily won from Aloysius yesterday by 6 to 1. Knott was invincible on the slab, allowing four hits, passing but one batter and setting down thirteen on strikes.

Both teams fielded well but three errors being recorded during the game. Billy Betts, who umpired in the Capital City League, made his debut for the Independence circuit and gave satisfaction.

Sunday School League.
Keyser's pitching and errors made by Anacostia allowed Carolina to win yesterday's game, by 11 to 5. But four hits were made by the Anacostia players who were unable to get any runs to make a showing.

In addition to pitching a good game, Keyser managed to get three hits for his team, one of which went for a triple. He led both teams at the bat.

Civil Service won from Currency yesterday, taking a one-sided game by 14 to 4. Reno, at short, for the winners proved to be the hero of the day in the hitting line as he got four of his six attempts.

Currency was unable to do anything with Caton, the Civil Service pitcher, while Civil Service hammered Vose for nineteen hits.

Capital City League.
Navy Yard managed to get six runs in the sixth inning yesterday, and checked the winning aspirations of the Brentwood team in its first start in the league. The score was 6 to 5.

It looked for all like a Brentwood victory up to the sixth, when the Navy Yard slugger got Loomis for the six runs, which broke up the game. The game was the first played in the circuit since May 27.

Departmental League.
Fans are today saying that yesterday's game between G. P. O. and Interior, which went to the Printing Office by a 2 to 1 score, was the best ever. G. P. O. presented a strengthened team and the fruits of the additions made showed in team playing.

Each team had an error chalked up against it and both pitchers kept the scores down by crafty work. G. P. O. had a shade on Interior and managed to get a much needed victory.

East Washington S. S. League.
First Presbyterian had won yesterday's game, but Souder got into an argument with Empire Woodward and was sent to the bench. Having no other player to make up the nine First was forced to forfeit. The score stood at 13 to 4 in favor of First.

The Presbyterian team was practically given the game as there was little chance of getting ahead in the last round. The unfortunate loss of the game may cause a protest.

Railroad Y. M. C. A. League.
Bryant, pitching for Adams yesterday, was too much for the Station team. He held his rivals to three hits and fan-fan ten batters. Adams won by 7 to 1.

Among the leading batters of the afternoon, the Adams pitcher was to be found with three hits. Stewart and Sheehan, with two apiece, lead with Bryant.

To Pitch for Naps.
CLEVELAND, June 21.—The Cleveland team, of the American League, has signed Tarbell, an Indian, who has pitched for St. Michael's College, near Burlington, Vt.

BINGLES AND BUNTS

Tipping It Off.

With two out in the final round
And J. F. Baker standing high—
No matter who was on the mound,
With one run needed for a tie!

There's only one safe system planned,
To feed this bloke the proper stall;
Chase swiftly in behind the stand,
And hide the ball.

As the fortunes of war would have it, the Senators found themselves with a total of seventeen straight wins—and then a stand against the Athletics. But record or no record, Griff and his people can absorb credit for the greatest event in the run of baseball history. For a ball club bereft of pennant tradition to rise from the rut into a whirl of seventeen consecutive victories completes our idea of the Ultimate Achievement in sport. And the sudden turn of a heart-breaking defeat doesn't lessen this credit. Business of doffing sombreros to the gamest dash of ballroom history—that no other ever made.

The Rube and 15 Straight.

Between the Chicago convention and the argument built around Marquard's fifteenth straight win we can clearly hear the call of far countries and alien lands inviting us to come and pay a friendly visit for a year or two.

The issue is this: Crandall relieved Marquard against the Cubs, with the score 3-2 in favor of the Giants after Marquard had pitched eight innings, Crandall pitching one. Marquard relieved Ames against Boston, with the score a tie in the eighth, and the Rube worked two rounds, the ninth and tenth. Technically he gets credit for both games. As to what sportively inclined dent this might make in compiling a world's record is left to the fan delegates-at-large, contested and uncontested.

Add "Mother Goose Melodies."

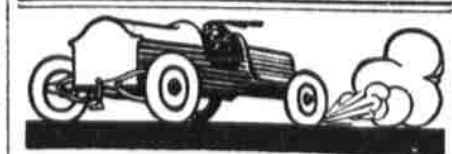

And the only tune which Baker can play
Is "Over the Fence and Far Away."

Hofman Sent Home; In a Nervous Collapse

PITTSBURGH, June 21.—Artie Hofman, who was secured from the Cubs through a trade, has been ordered to his home in Akron, Ohio, for rest. Clarke and Hofman had a long talk last night after the game. Since Hofman's recent collapse in New York, his condition has been such that he was bordering on a complete nervous breakdown. Clarke decided the best thing to do was to send Hofman home. Hofman is under weight and full of malaria, according to his own statement. Those in a position to know state that Hofman's ailment is more than malaria. A few months before the trade was pulled off with the Cubs Hofman had to be carried from the Columbia Theater in Chicago and taken to a hotel in a taxi after a nervous collapse. It is said that Hofman's illness is such as to preclude the possibility of the Pirates benefiting to any great extent by his services during the present year.

Clute Heads Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 21.—Leslie D. Clute was elected captain of the Cornell baseball team for 1913 yesterday. Clute has played first base for the past two seasons and will be a senior next year. He is a native of Elmira.

Little Likely Winner Of Tennis Singles

NEW YORK, June 21.—C. K. F. Andrews, Raymond D. Little, Arthur S. Dabney, and C. Frederick Watson, Jr., drew level in the semi-final round of the Metropolitan Lawn Tennis championship singles yesterday on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club, 22nd street and Broadway. All along the live yesterday it was the survival of the class, with Little looming up large as the likely winner of the cup and title.

Lynn Bell Released.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 21.—Lynn Bell, second baseman, has been released by the Louisville Association team to the Scranton, Pa., team, in the New York State League.

BOB THAYER'S SPORTING GOSSIP

"EVERY KNOCK IS A BOOST."

Lost two more.

Moeller, Foster, and Milan failed signally for the first time in weeks, which is accountable for the loss of the four games. When this hitting trio fails to come across with hits there is something the matter and can be laid directly to a slump. Those who are hollering about the true speed of the team will be rooting again shortly when the boys start in hitting.

Engel and Casillon fail.

Engel seems to be good for about six innings and then weakens. Yesterday he got along well for six rounds, when the avalanche of hits struck him. In addition, the team failed to bat behind either of the pitchers in the two games. Joe Boehling was wild when he relieved Engel and was fortunate in having but one run scored off him.

Athletics again today.

Cravath effectually put a damper on Brooklyn's winning streak yesterday by knocking two homers. Time was when Cravath played in Washington. His work with Minneapolis attracted attention last year, and at the start of this season he hit well for the Phillies. Brooklyn had won five straight up to yesterday and looked particularly good for a long spurt.

Giants defeat Braves.

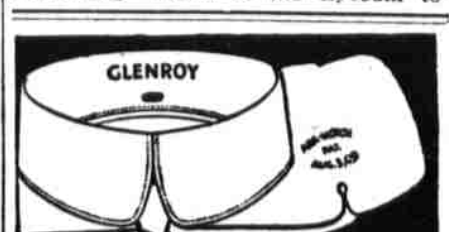

McGraw turned the Giants loose on the Braves yesterday, and the New York team whaled the life out of the ball. The game was a farce and rivaled that Boston-Nationals contest early on the last Western trip. The Giants stole eleven bases and got twenty-eight bases on nineteen hits.

Regatta here Saturday.

In the recent Western trip the East won more than twice as many games as their rivals, the Nationals leading. Fifteen games went to Griff, while Connie Mack got eleven with the Athletics. Boston won nine and New York managed to annex five. Cleveland and Detroit were tied with six victories, while Chicago got five and St. Louis three. Forty-one wins for the East and twenty for the West was the count.

Cravath stops Brooklyn.

night. Washington wrestling fans have been without a match for some time, and a large gathering is looked for to watch the good preliminaries and the big match of the evening. Turner has been in training for some time, and Jordan reports in fine shape.

Yale and Harvard row.

Manager Davis, of the Naps, is evidently adopting his old manager's scheme of trying out college men. Nash, the Brown player, has just been signed, and Tarbell, the Indian pitcher, from St. Michael's College, in Vermont, is the latest acquisition. St. Michael's claims the distinction of having furnished the big leagues with a number of good pitchers, Dubuc, of Detroit, being one of them.

Baker figures in the wins.

The college players are flocking to the big leagues for a trial, now that the collegiate games are nearly done. Some may make the running, but it will be hard at this time to get into the line-up with regulars on the job all the time. With the pitchers it is a different story, but few infielders have a chance to break in now. Many will go to the minors for a little seasoning to start again in the spring on even terms with the veterans.
